LISSE DECLERCQ

Born 1993, Lüdenscheid, Germany

Lives and works in Belgium

German-born, belgian artist Lisse Declercq is known for the visual pleasure within her artistic practice and for the specific methods in which she works. Declercq elaborated her painting techniques and foundations by watching makeup tutorials on Youtube. She bends this language to stage social selfies, an awareness of a certain reality, and its effects on ways of looking. In this culture of the copy, this millennial painter moves between fantasy and reality while calling into question authenticity. Declercq questions the longing for perfection, the copy-paste Instagram/ media aesthetics as an impossible, endless battle of unwillingly and unknowingly playing a part in a "reality show" in a virtual media reality.
